The market-leading online system that helps departing colleagues into new jobs

An affordable job seeking solution for challenging times

Redundancies are an unfortunate inevitability in today's economy and you want to provide the best possible support to those leaving your organisation. Aptem Employ is the market-leading multi-award-winning online jobseeker training and support system that provides individuals with all the resources they need to secure employment.

Senior or junior, a job-search involves similar processes. Individuals need to understand what they have to offer, who will be interested in this and how to sell themselves effectively. Aptem Employ users access the resources they will find useful. For one person it might be a 'what are my transferable skills' assessment and local matching vacancies. For another it is a list of relevant executive search consultants, a sector research report and a company's filed accounts.

What can Aptem Employ do?
